Abstract—Have you ever felt like the love of your life no longer exists after her soul was devoured by an eldritch abomination born from the folly of mankind? Do you feel the compulsion to turn the world into Tang(tm) in order to elevate humans into a metaphysical existence of communal assimilation (and coincidentally reuniting you with the soul of previously devoured love of your life)? Well, this is the paper for you. Special thanks to our son, Ikari Shinji, for getting in the damn robot.
